We are pleased to announce that CINTAS DOCUMENT MANAGEMENT has been named the preferred supplier for the information destruction needs at Tufts University.

With more than 2,000 companies in the United States providing information destruction services, it is clear that not all take security as seriously as they should.

Cintas Document Management is AAA NAID Certified, ensuring compliance with the most stringent operational security procedures in the industry.

NAID is the international trade association for the information destruction industry and establishes stringent security practices and standards that shredding service providers must meet.

“What looks to be a bunch of trash to you may be a gold mine for an identity thief”

Ensure sensitive business/employee information is fully protected against misuse, identity theft, and loss while staying compliant with privacy laws and government regulations, with Cintas shredding services.
